MR. THOMAS LOUGHLIN SERIOUSLY INJURED

Thrown From His Carriage On Congress Street When Horse Ran Away

Former State Senator Thomas Loughlin was thrown from his carriage on Congress street, shortly after four o'clock Tuesday afternoon and was badly injured.

Mr. Loughlin was driving down Congress street in his carriage when in front of the Y. M. C. A. building, one of the reins broke and the horse started on the run down the street. Another man who was riding in the carriage jumped and escaped injury, but Mr. Loughlin stuck to the carriage and when in front of the Granite State Insurance Company's building the carriage collided with a farm wagon and Mr. Loughlin was thrown. He struck on the asphalt pavement on his head and was knocked unconscious.

He was picked up and taken into the office of Dr. A. J. Lacey, who summoned his family physician Dr. Berry, who dressed his injuries. He had a bad scalp wound and was injured about the back, besides of course being shaken up and bruised by the fall for he is a heavy man.

Although badly injured he is fortunate that it was no worse, for had his head struck the car track or the curb, he would surely have been killed.

Veteran firemen of Portsmouth are much interested in the recent challenge issued by the Uncle Sam company of Manchester to play out against the T. W. Lane company of the same city for a prize of $200.

The local companies, Franklin

DR. WHITE IS HELD FOR GRAND JURY

For Operation That Caused Death of Mary A. Lane

Defendant's Counsel Will Offer Big Bail to the Superior Court

Dr. Herbert A. White of North Hampton, who was arraigned on Monday in police court charged with performing a criminal operation which caused the death of Miss Mary Alice Lane of Stratham on Sept. 29 at the Cottage Hospital, was before Judge Simms of the police court today.

The case was heard at the county jail where Dr. White has been confined since his arraignment without bail.

The witnesses for the state were Dr. Thomas W. Lacey, Dr. J. H. Neal, Mrs. Catherine Garvey, Attorney William B. Marvin and Sheriff M. M. Collins. Dr. White had previously pleaded not guilty and the case proceeded with the first witness, Dr. T. W. Lacey.

He testified that Mary A. Lane was in his employ as a cook since last May. He noticed on Sunday, Sept. 27, that the girl was ill with a high temperature and chills. Next morning he had her sent to the hospital where he treated her and found she was suffering from peritonitis and she died on Tuesday night. When he had satisfied himself that she would die he consulted Attorney William B. Marvin, who took her statement. Sheriff Collins and Dr. Lacey examined her room at the Lane house later, where they found letters, pictures and clothing.

On Friday afternoon she was telephoned for between two and four o'clock to go out, but the witness did not know who did the telephoning. He suspected abortion on Saturday, but was not absolutely sure of it. When he attended her on Sunday afternoon he asked what the trouble was and she said it was cramps.

Cross-examined by Judge Emery: Her temperature was 103 on Sunday night. The doctor told her she could not recover. She said she was happy and believed she would die. This was at four o'clock on Sunday. He thought her head was clear at the time. She wanted drink and air. She had whiskey before she made her statement but not enough to affect her memory. He said: "Mary, you are going to die. There is no chance for you and I want you to know it." He also said: "Have you done anything to bring on this condition?" She said "No." He asked her again on Monday and she again denied it.

He examined her and she did not object and he said: "Mary, you have not told me the truth." Then she admitted that she was operated on on Friday. She did not hesitate to tell who performed the operation and named Dr. White and also told how it was done but did not want to tell who was responsible for her condition in the first place.

Dr. Neal, the second witness, testified that he helped to perform an autopsy at Mr. Ham's undertaking rooms. Her death was due to peritonitis.

Attorney W. B. Marvin was next called. He presented the statement given by the girl and said Dr. Lacey came to his office for advice. In the absence of the county collector he thought it best to get the girl's statement and part of this statement was taken at her bedside and some of it was written in Mr. Marvin's office. They went in the room at the hospital where they found Mary A. Lane. She recognized the witness and spoke to him as Mr. Marvin. Nurses were present during part of the girl's statement. He asked her if she knew who was going to die and she said she did, as the doctors told her.

He put her under oath and asked her to tell the story and she had no hesitation about talking and most of the story was voluntary. Her statements were clear. She said she had told enough when he asked her who was responsible for her condition and declined to talk further on that subject. Later she did name John Morgan Logan of North Hampton and then took the pen and made the mark on the statement while the nurse held the paper. She then shook hands with me and he left the place bidding her good-bye and he said: "I hope you will get well, Mary."

Mary Catherine Garvey testified that she is the wife of Peter J. Garvey, residing at 31 Hanover street, where she conducts a lodging house.

A gentleman called and engaged a room for himself and wife saying he was a traveling man and that his wife would come later. He paid two weeks in advance. She never saw the man only when he paid the rent. At one time a woman paid the rent money. She thought their names were Randall and later put a letter with that address in their room. The woman handed it back and said her name was Wendell and her husband was Harry Wendell.

She saw the woman many times but not as much as the maid. Cannot say if they stopped in room over night.

At this point of the hearing the defense of the dead girl, Mary Lane, was handed her and she said in a clear and distinct voice: "That is the woman who gave her name as Wendell."

"Do you see Harry Wendell in this room?" asked the county attorney.

"I do," she answered.

"Point him out," said the attorney.

She looked Dr. White in the face for a second or two and then raising her right hand and with a much stronger voice than before said: "There he is."

The doctor looked her straight in the eye with not a muscle moving. In answer to Judge Emery she said she had men from ships as lodgers and formerly lived on Charles street, Boston, and her husband was at one time employed in Lynn.

The last witness was Sheriff Collins, who said after talking with the solicitor he went to the girl's room where he took letters, an alcohol stove, two bottles, one containing whiskey and the other alcohol, a French cooking pan. Here the state exhibited the articles found and the pan which contained a mixture that smelled like burned rubber, also a small rubber tube found in a bag with soiled clothing.

The state concluded its side at 11.40 and Dr. White, through his attorney, Judge Samuel W. Emery, offered no defense.

Judge Simms found probable cause to hold Dr. White without bail for the grand jury and he was sent back to his cell.

Judge Emery immediately left for Dover where he will petition Judge Young of the superior court to allow bail for his client, which will be in the sum of $8,000, as approved by the county solicitor.

Mr. Leighton for the district No. 2 recommended that Miss Henriette

Steinfeld, a graduate of the Plymouth Normal school be elected a teacher in the second grade of the Whipple school and she was elected.

He also called the attention of the Board to the fact that Miss Morrison, the principal of the Whipple school had fifty-five pupils which was too many for any one teacher without the care of the building thrown in. He recommended that an assistant be engaged and the board voted power to the committee to secure an assistant.

Mr. Leighton stated that there was need of an assistant at the Cabot school kindergarten where the principal was unable to do her work and play the piano at the same time, and asked that the same system of hiring a piano player for a few hours every day be carried out as last year. This was favorable to the Board and the committee authorized to secure an assistant.

Mr. McCarthy for the first district stated that Miss Mary Pennell had resigned as teacher in the Farragut school kindergarten and her resignation was accepted. On his recommendation Miss Bertha Bennett was elected to fill the vacancy.

Mrs. Hewitt for the third district recommended Miss Mary Griffin as a teacher at the Haven school and she was elected.

Mr. Silver said that the Director of Manual Art at the High school had not been elected. Mr. Percy A. Brigham was the teacher and he had been doing the work since school opened, and was very successful and he considered that the city was fortunate in securing such an able man. Mr. Brigham was unanimously elected to the position. This position was made available through an extra appropriation on the part of the City Council, and it was installed for the first time at the present term of school.

Mrs. Ellen Leary of Greenland, cited the fact that she was a tax payer in this city and asked that the tuition of her son, who was attending school in the eighth grade here be abated. There was some argument over the matter, but it was finally granted.

In accordance with the request of Mr. Locke, Mr. Silver reported that there were three pupils from the Forts and six from the Navy yard, who had their tuition abated. The report was accepted and made a part of the record.

The question of amending Sec. 16, Chapter No. 4 of the rules, in regard to allowing teachers to give private tuition to public school pupils, was taken up and there was considerable

COUNTING THE FOREST TREES

Billions of Standing Timber in This Country

The national conservation commission has caused the first comprehensive attempt at a census of the standing timber in the United States ever undertaken. The forest service has for several years been endeavoring to take such a census, and the bureau of the census has expressed its willingness to cooperate, but funds have not been available. The conservation commission, however, has the information to help complete the task of the country's natural resources, which it will include in its report to the president, and plans that its report is to be submitted on the first of next year. It needs the information at once. In consequence the work on the census has been started with a rush and is now under full headway.

It may be a slight exaggeration to speak of a census of timber, for of course it is impossible to count the individual trees in the forests; even the most ambitious plans of the forest service and the bureau of the census did not contemplate that. But a trained man can with great accuracy "crisp" a tract of forest and estimate the number of board feet it contains. Large portions of the forests of the country, including practically all the national forests, have been estimated at various times, but these figures have never been brought together and the organized effort has ever been made to gather them into one total for to supply the deficiencies where hitherto no estimates have been made.

As a result, the figures as to the amount of standing timber in the United States range all the way from $22,582,650,000 to 2,530,000,000 feet—a difference of more than a trillion feet in the estimates of the best qualified authorities in the country.

In the opinion of the forest service, the most carefully prepared estimates yet made are those by Henry Gannett, published by the twelfth census in 1900. These placed the total standing timber at 1,350,000,000,000 board feet. Mr. Gannett, it so happens, has been chosen by the president to compile all the information gathered for the commission, and with his previous acquaintance with the subject of forestry, he is at work now enlarging the knowledge of forest areas at present available.

The importance of this census lies largely in the fact that it will give an accurate basis for computing how long our timber supplies will last through the cooperation of the forest service and the census bureau. The country's natural consumption of wood is known with tolerable accuracy, although even here there are some discrepancies, because a large amount of wood is used for posts, fuel and domestic purposes, for which no satisfactory data have yet been collected. But the consensus of opinion among those equipped to judge is that the present annual consumption is about 100,000,000,000 board feet, or something more than that. One leading authority has placed it as high as 50,000,000,000 board feet.

Assuming, therefore, 100,000,000,000 feet annual use of 1,350,000,000,000 feet and neglecting growth in the computation of our timber supply is indicated in fourteen years. Assuming the same use and stand, with an annual growth of 40,000,000,000 feet, we have supply for twenty-three years. Assuming an annual use of 100,000,000,000 feet, and neglecting growth in the computation of our timber supply is indicated in fourteen years. Assuming the same use and stand, with an annual growth of 40,000,000,000 feet, we have supply for twenty-three years.

It is apparent from these computations why the national conservation commission considers the census of timber so essential to the preparation of its inventory.

The chief difference between the methods now being employed by the conservation commission and those of the bureau of the census would seem to be that while the bureau would send its enumerators to make personal visits to all parts of the country, the commission is achieving its ends by its correspondence. For instance, 2100 letters have gone out to county clerks, asking for statements of forest areas in their counties. Seven thousand lumbermen and timberland owners have been asked to supply similar information. In all nearly 150,000 letters have been sent. These letters also ask for a wide variety of information besides the area and quantity of forests. They request reports on all uses not only of the lumbering and mill industries but of all others which are even indirectly dependent on the use of wood. The purpose of the commission is not merely to run how much wood is growing now, but how long it may be expected to last and how the supply may be prolonged by economy.

All government departments and bureaus which have any information on forests, as well as many large corporations, such as land tract individuals which hold big forest tracts in all states and have cruised them carefully, have turned it over to Mr. Gannett.

The forest service naturally has the largest fund of information, and is gathering more constantly, either independently or with the help of the census bureau. The department of war, the interior and commerce and labor can turn over the amounts of timber standing on military, light-house, and other reservations. The bureau of corporations of the department of commerce and labor has sent out an expensive schedule of inquiries to its special agents which it is hoped

Bernstein's Great Play, "The Thief"

But the success of "The Thief" has not been primarily due to the exertions of any of its players. The world wide interest shown in the play has been due to the persistence of its story line to every grade of society, if not to every particular family the world over. Women like the wife in "The Thief," youths like the son in "The Thief," and the husband in "The Thief," are to be found and live just such lives in the smallest village in the land. The story of the play is simple enough as a story, it is intensely absorbing in interest, wonderfully human, but it is a skilful away plot, without side issues. What intensifies the interest of the playgoer is the intensity with which Bernstein has told his story. Just when he is thought to have reached his climax, Bernstein veers off and attains another climax, and then another until his resolute, most seems without end.

The Lion and the Mouse

At the North Hall in the near future Henry B. Harris will produce Charles Knapp's greatest play, "The Lion and the Mouse," a drama which has achieved the greatest success in theatrical annals in the past ten years. The premiere production of this play was given in Boston four years ago and was played at the Lyceum Theatre, New York, for months without a single break which is a record no other production can boast of. At some time during the summer other attractions have been compelled to close at least for a period of two to three weeks.

It may be said in truth the "The Lion and the Mouse" pictures as it does social and financial life of the upper class of Americans today is the great American play for which the actors because of its vivid picture of these phases of life which are today an everyone's tongue and because especially selected by Mr. Harris for the presentation of this great drama.

BOARD OF INSTRUCTION
HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Discussion on both sides of the question. Mr. Thayer favored the repeating of the section, as he thought that it did considerable harm. Judge Page was very much opposed to the changing of the rule in any regard as it laid the way open for unpleasant situations, for he claimed that no matter how fair the teacher, she or he could not but favor the pupil for which they were receiving tuition money from. All of the other members were opposed to making any change in the rule, but did favor the recommendation of Mr. Locke that the district committee be given power to suspend the rule in worthy cases, subject to the approval of the Board. After more discussion the matter was lost, falling the necessary two-thirds vote to change the rules. On motion of Mr. Locke the matter was then indefinitely postponed.

The Board then adjourned.

THE KAISER'S BILLBOARD
Gets the Biggest in the World and Then Folks Write to the Paper

It has recently been brought to light that the North Cape, which is the most northerly point of Europe, "an imposing, gloomy cliff, rising almost perpendicular out of the Arctic Ocean," has been brought into use as a billboard by the millions of advertisers, and that the German Emperor was the person who started the deplorable business.

As the story goes, when the Kaiser visited the spot a few years ago, "he expressed a desire to leave a striking memorial of his visit, so he allowed the great authorities to paint the name of his yacht, "Hohenzoellern" in letters fifteen feet in height on the face of the extreme end of the rock." After that, various German shipping firms which conduct steamship excursions to that region followed the Kaiser's example and had the names of their vessels painted on various portions of the cliff. Next a chocolate maker had his name and business painted there in conspicuous fashion, and a firm of shoe-polish manufacturers followed. Charges for space were at first small, but as the cliff came more into demand for this purpose the rates were raised and now the North Cape is about the most expensive billboard in the world.

North Cape is a long way off, and perhaps to the vast majority of persons who hold a genuine love for unadulterated nature it is a matter of small consequence whether or not the place is used as a billboard. At the same time the spot is one of rugged, picturesque beauty, and its distinction as the most northerly point in Europe entitled it to preservation from the rapacity of commerce and the egotism of emperors.

DENUNCIATION OF AUSTRIA.

English Press Thinks Emperor Is In the Wrong.

CONFERENCE OF POWERS.

Only Result Would Be Some Arrangement That Will Save Turkey's Pride.
--Present Situation Is Decidedly Complicated, With the Prospect of War Fading--Serbia Appears to Be an Element of Great Peril.

London, Oct. 7.—The second and culminating step in the Austro-Hungarian program for the aggrandizement of themselves at the expense of the status established by the treaty of Berlin was consummated last night, when Emperor Francis Joseph formally proclaimed the practical annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina to the dual monarchy.

The present situation is as follows: Turkey calls upon the powers to preserve to her what they guaranteed by that treaty. Austria and Bulgaria strongly declare their determination to keep what they have taken. Serbia is protesting belligerently against being hemmed in more strongly between two unpopular neighbors and against having the Servians in Bosnia absorbed into the Austro-Hungarian nationality.

The other powers concerned in the Berlin treaty are discussing the holding of an international conference, a mere preliminary of which the present situation is one of the most delicate problems. Turkey's unexpected restraint policy mitigates the possibilities of which now is considered out of the question.

English papers unite in praising the moderation and in denouncing Austria. The Standard, in a typical utterance, says:

"We are sorry for the aged emperor. We regret that so late in his long and honorable career he has chosen to sully his name with a deed which will go down in history alongside of the partition of Poland."

Several of the London newspapers question whether or not Emperor Francis Joseph is acting against his will.

A conference of the powers is expected to be held within two or three months if it can be arranged, but no one imagines that it will make this week's work. Austria declines even to discuss annexation and the most that is expected is some arrangement that will save Turkey's pride.

Before the powers agree to enter upon a conference they probably will be obliged to define its scope, which will be a hard task. British statesmen suggest that compensation be made to Turkey and that guarantees be given against further disturbance of the status quo.

It is considered beyond belief that any congress would risk a general war by attempting to undo the acts of Bulgaria and Austria. The supreme test is being applied to the Young Turk party. If it should insist on war it is undone. It may be believed that the patriotism and intelligence that enabled it to win a bloodless victory over the Sultan will prevent it playing into the hands of the old regime.

Of course there always is the chance that an unauthorized frontier clash may precipitate hostilities, especially, as is well known, the Bulgarians think very well of their army and believe that it could enter Constantinople before the Turkish army could be mobilized for its defense. And the danger does not lie wholly in the hands of Bulgaria and Turkey. Serbia is greatly agitated over the Austro-Hungarian annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina and has called out her army reserves.

RUSSIA'S ATTITUDE.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 7.—The unwelcome news that Russia had decided for the present at least not to recognize the independence of Bulgaria was communicated to the Bulgarian minister in reply to the notification of Prince Ferdinand's proclamation. Russia stated that she had determined to adhere strictly to the provisions of the Berlin treaty until the treaty had been formally amended by the signatories.

DEMANDING WAR.

Belgrade, Serbia, Oct. 7.—A mass meeting of 10,000 persons was held last night in the public square, the mayor of the city presiding. The leaders of all political parties made addresses and resolutions were adopted calling upon the government to induce the powers to save Bosnia and Herzegovina from annexation and pledging the lives of the Serbian people for the cause. The newspapers demand war.

REFUSED BY ROCKEFELLER.

New York, Oct. 7.—A sword which John D. Rockefeller refused to accept as a gift from Miss Anne Parry of London was sold at auction at the customs appraiser's warehouse for $5.75 to pay the duty on it. It was purchased by a laborer in the warehouse. Miss Parry sent a letter with the sword, saying that it was lost during Oliver Cromwell's bombardment of the Leith parish church in London and had been found ground for 150 years. When Rockefeller declined to accept it, Miss Parry was notified and she requested that the sword be returned to her, but neglected to forward payment of expenses.

PENNANT GOES TO DETROIT.

Contest in the American League Has Been Remarkably Close.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—What is said to have been the closest pennant contest ever waged by American League baseball clubs came to an end here, when Detroit, champion of 1907, captured the emblem for another year by defeating Chicago 7 to 0. Detroit, Cleveland and Chicago struggled all season for first place, never being far from each other in the matter of games won and lost table. The final standing of the clubs follows:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Detroit	100	63	.615
Cleveland	100	64	.610
Chicago	88	63	.585
St. Louis	83	69	.544
Boston	74	78	.487
Philadelphia	67	84	.444
Washington	61	85	.415
New York	51	100	.338

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
In the National League, New York's second victory over Boston puts them one-half a game behind the Cubs. If New York should win today, it will be a tie for the lead.

Yesterday the directors of the National League ruled that the disputed Giants-Cubs game was a tie and directed that it be played on Thursday at the polo grounds, should New York demand it. The championship is, therefore, likely to be decided in the metropolis tomorrow.

HAVERHILL FAVORS DES MOINES PLAN.

Her Citizens Vote For a Government by Commission.

Haverhill, Mass., Oct. 7.—The new city charter, providing for a government by commission, which was presented to the state legislature and allowed by that body in its last session, was adopted by the voters of the city at a special election, the vote being 8067 to 2241.

The charter is copied from the Des Moines plan. Under its provisions a board of commissioners or administrators elected every year, with a salary of $1500 each, and the old board of seven aldermen and fourteen common councilmen abolished. The mayor is also elected every year at a salary of $2500. Instead of $2000, as heretofore, but is to have no veto power. The old school board of twenty-one members will be replaced by four members elected at large.

The initiative and referendum is given the voters and also the right to remove any member of the government who does not hold true to the pledges of his office by a petition signed by 25 percent of the voters.

The new charter will go into effect at the beginning of the municipal year, Jan. 1, 1909.

THE CHAFFERS' STRIKE.

New York, Oct. 7.—There was a riot last night in front of the garage of the New York Taxicab company, whose chauffeurs are on strike, when 500 strike sympathizers attempted to rescue a striking chauffeur from the police. The man was charged with having assaulted a strikebreaker. Fights between the strikebreakers and strike sympathizers occurred intermittently all day. Many taxicabs were returned to the garage badly damaged.

STRIKERS ARE INDIGNANT.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 7.—Great indignation was expressed at a meeting of the Canadian Pacific railroad strikers yesterday. The men claim they have been asked to go back under worse conditions than when they went on strike. Telegrams were read from all parts of the system, showing that the men at the several points are more dissatisfied than those in Winnipeg. The general sentiment of the meeting favored not going to work.

FATAL DOMESTIC QUARREL.

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—Captain J. C. Erb of the Third regiment, National Guard of Pennsylvania, and attorney for Israel W. Durham when he was state insurance commissioner, was shot and killed at his home, Red Gulches, in Village Green, last night. The shooting came as the climax to a series of the most troubles which Erb had recently experienced with his wife.

LEFT OVER $7,000,000.

Boston, Oct. 7.—An inventory of the estate of the late (Admiral) A. Shaw, the copper magnate, just filed by the executor, gives the total value as $7,150,483.88. The bulk of the property is personal. Stock in the Columbia and Hecla Mining company is appraised at $3,100,000.

KILLED IN SHAPING.

Lawrence, Mass., Oct. 7.—While carrying a bag of wool from the wash room to the drying room at the Union mills here, John Council, 40 years old, was instantly killed by being dragged into some overhead shafting, into which the bag he was carrying had caught.

RHODE ISLAND DEMOCRATS.

Olney Arnold Placed In the Field For Governor.

HARMONIOUS CONVENTION.

Overshadowing Issue of State Declared to Be Destruction of the Boss and of Bossism--Change in Present Constitution Necessary Before Permanent Relief or Reform May Be Obtained.

Providence, Oct. 7.—The annual Democratic state convention to nominate party candidates for state officers and a set of presidential electors was called to order by Chairman Fitzsimmons of the state committee, followed by the reading of the call. Richard D. Constock was elected temporary chairman, and the regular order continued with the call of the roll of delegates.

Mr. Constock delivered a brief speech in which an allusion to Mr. Bryan was cheered for three minutes. He paid high tribute to Governor Higgins, saying that his name had become a household word in every home in Rhode Island, and before many years would be a national name known in all the homes in the land. There would be no "back stepping," he said, in the work of reform in the state.

As soon as the temporary organization had become permanent, the name of Olney Arnold, as the candidate for governor, was presented to the convention by Frank E. Fitzsimmons and the nomination followed by acclamation. The balance of the ticket was made up as follows:

Lieutenant governor, Adelard Archambault, Woonsocket; secretary of state, Robert Grievie, Providence; attorney general, T. B. Corcoran, Pawtucket; general treasurer, T. D. Babcock, Westerly; presidential electors, A. E. Stiness, Providence; E. G. Rounder, Woonsocket; J. E. Coffinell, Newport; J. B. Canning, Providence.

The platform was presented to the convention by P. H. Quinn. After endorsing the national ticket and platform the platform continued:

"The Democracy of this state reaffirms and reasserts the position assumed by it in the two last campaigns, that the overshadowing issue of this state is the destruction of the boss and of bossism, and we gratefully acknowledge the assistance rendered in this fight by those patriotic men of other parties who joined hands with our organization in its fight for better government. Not for party advantage, but in the interest of our state, we solicit a continuance of their assistance."

"But in this fight against the boss it should be borne in mind that the disruption of the system that permits bossism is more important even than the removal of a particular boss. And it must have been apparent to all thinking citizens from the results of the campaigns of 1906 and 1907 that before any permanent relief or reform may be had in this state a change must be made in the present constitution which will give equal representation in our law-making bodies to the handful of the state regardless of whether men live in cities or in towns."

"And inasmuch as under the present system no amendment to the constitution may be submitted to the electors of the state without the consent of the representatives of a small minority of the state's population we demand the immediate submission of an amendment to the state constitution, which shall empower a number of qualified electors, not exceeding 10 percent of the vote cast for governor at the last preceding election, to initiate by petition amendments to the organic law of the state and to have the same submitted to the electorate for adoption or rejection by majority vote."

"Then follow various issues which are to be emphasized during the campaign. The resolutions were accepted by a unanimous vote, and Candidate Arnold was sent for, and soon appeared, being greeted with applause. Arnold accepted the nomination and predicted the success of the entire ticket in November."

TAFT ENDS WESTERN TOUR.

St. Louis, Oct. 7.—With a twelve-hour demonstration of cordiality, political enthusiasm and intense interest, St. Louis furnished a climax to the western campaign trip of William H. Taft, which ended yesterday.

The candidate spoke to an immense audience in the newly finished Coliseum, followed this with an open-air address at Clayton, a suburb, and then rushed to East St. Louis, Ill., where he addressed a large gathering of employees at the stock yards.

Many thousands of strangers came to St. Louis for the occasion. From the station to the hotel crowds of people blocked either sidewalk and part of the street, and Taft was compelled to stand, but in hand, the entire distance of more than a mile, acknowledging the salutations.

Before reaching St. Louis Taft had a strenuous day in a number of Missouri towns. He reached Moberly before 8 o'clock in the morning and spoke to a large crowd in the local theatre. Good times had resulted from protection and had times from a Democratic tariff was the burden of his speeches throughout the day.

A REVOLVING CHINE.

Trespass, Russia, Oct. 7.—Robbers in the neighboring village of Solovki entered the house of a Jewish family named Cohen and killed twelve persons in their efforts to get away with a small amount of loot. The authorities took the murderers into custody.

As governor of the Philippines and secretary of war, Taft told his hosts at Mexico, he had been one of the country's best customers. He had bought many rifles from them for the government. When he asked if there were any arguments needed to convince them of their own prosperity there were many negative expressions.

IRVING NOT YET DEAD.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Oct. 7.—I present myself as an example of one who has outlived the venomous attacks of his opponents. You heard me called a demagogue twelve years ago. You saw them bury me and you heard them chant their songs over my grave, and now they have to explain why it happened that I was not dead."

With all the fever that he could muster, William J. Bryan, facing a vast assembly between Yama and Toledo, Ia., delivered himself of this utterance. At no time during the present campaign has he spoken so earnestly or with such vigor. His remark followed a bitter denunciation of Mr. Taft for refusing to agree to a publication of campaign contributions before election. "No honest man and no political party conducting an honest campaign," he declared, "need be afraid of the light."

At Woodward he heaped ridicule on the Republicans, charging them with taking credit for the growth of crops, the shining of the sun and the bringing of rain. "In fact," he said, "they seize upon anything that they think gives a plausible excuse for voting the Republican ticket."

Drawing large, cheering crowds all day in the course of his travels through the state, the Democratic candidate hurled defiance at his opponents, and challenged them to meet his arguments. Fifteen speeches and handshaking with thousands constituted his day's work, the concluding speech being made here last night in the Auditorium, which was filled to overflowing. The keynote of his principal remarks last night was that Republican policies meant disaster, while Democratic policies meant prosperity.

A WHITE HORSE CONFERENCE.

Washington, Oct. 7.—The political situation at large and practically the prospects for the state and national ticket in New York was carefully gone over at a prolonged conference at the White House last night, which lasted until midnight. Secretary Taft told the newspapermen there would be no statement given out relative to the conference. One of those who took part said, however, that a review of conditions showed that the general situation was very encouraging to the Republicans.

Incidentally the question of campaign business came up as a result of the visit of Treasurer Shickler to the White House during the afternoon.

NORMAN MACK COLLAPSES.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—Norman E. Mack, chairman of the Democratic national committee, collapsed last night as a result of fatigue and a severe cold. He is under the care of a physician and a trained nurse. The illness of Mack came suddenly and alarmed fellow members of the Democratic committee.

Dr. Hammond was summoned and he said that Mack was suffering of overwork and nervous exhaustion. He did not believe the illness serious, and indicated that the patient would be able to resume his duties in a few days. Mack arrived in Chicago from New York Monday afternoon.

NOT GOING ON THE STUMP.

Rochester, Oct. 7.—President Roosevelt will not take the stump in the campaign this fall. Bishop Earl Cranston, D. D., of Washington, presiding bishop of the General Methodist conference, said to a number of clergymen at the close of the conference here last night: "If anyone tells you to go, say to him that he is mistaken," said the bishop.

When asked how he was able to speak positively, Cranston took out a letter and said that in it President Roosevelt had assured him that he would not go on the stump. Cranston is a personal friend of the president.

FARMERS HEAR SHERMAN.

Toledo, Oct. 7.—Farmers backed in great numbers to listen to speeches made by James S. Sherman, Republican vice presidential nominee, in a series of meetings across the northern tier of counties in Indiana and Ohio. The candidate started the day with the intention of making but two speeches, but by night he had visited eight towns, in all of which he delivered addresses.

RALLY AT MELROSE.

Melrose, Mass., Oct. 7.—Senator Lodge, Lieutenant Governor Draper and Lewis A. Frothingham were the principal speakers at a Republican rally at the Auditorium here last night. Particular stress was laid on defining the Roosevelt policies. Frothingham declared that "Mr. Bryan's recent jump in desiring the guarantee of bank deposits and favoring the election of judges would prove his undoing."

INDICATIONS OF APATHY.

New York, Oct. 7.—Comparative apathy among the voting population of the city seems to be indicated by the figures for the second day of registration in Greater New York. For the whole city the figure for the two days' registration total 408,407, as against 437,761 in 1904, a falling off of 29,354.

A REVOLVING CHINE.

Trespass, Russia, Oct. 7.—Robbers in the neighboring village of Solovki entered the house of a Jewish family named Cohen and killed twelve persons in their efforts to get away with a small amount of loot. The authorities took the murderers into custody.

SETTLEMENT NEAR AT HAND.

Caunt Confers With Agents of the Striking Unions.

UNDERSTAND EACH OTHER.

Owner of Lynn Shoe Factory In Which Trouble Started Expresses Willingness to Arbitrate the Matter Under Certain Conditions--Other Manufacturers May Have to Be Made a Party to Action.

Lynn, Mass., Oct. 7.—The prospect for the settlement of the lastest strike in this city seems brighter than it has since the inauguration of the trouble last Friday. At the conclusion of a conference held in the office of Mayor Porter between Joseph Caunt, in whose factory the strike was first declared, and the business agents of the two striking unions, C. W. Whidden of the Hatters' union and M. J. Tracy of the Machine Operators' union, Caunt declared that he and the hatters understood each other better and gave it as his opinion that an amicable settlement would soon be reached.

The conference was held at the suggestion of the state board of conciliation and arbitration, which came here to hold a joint meeting with the local board of Trade in an effort to bring about an adjustment of the difficulty. Caunt was about to leave for New York when he was requested to meet the hatters' representatives, but postponed his trip.

At the conference it was made plain to Caunt that, although the strike was called as a direct result of his action in installing the new assembling machines, certain alleged grievances in other factories had been a contributing cause of the sympathetic strike. He told the union men he was willing to arbitrate with the strikers in his factory and that he was willing to take the matter up with the representatives of the hatters. He said, however, that it must first be determined whether he was the sole cause of the strike or whether the strike was brought about by the dissatisfaction existing in the other factories.

If the hatters decide that the trouble exists in Caunt's factory alone, Caunt said he would demand that all the hatters who went on strike in the other factories should go back to their work before he would make any concession to his own men, but that if the latter condition prevails, then he must insist that the other manufacturers be made a party to settlement action.

The hatters called a meeting to consider the proposition and Whidden and Tracy will meet Caunt and Porter in the mayor's office today.

BILLARD IS MUM.

Boston, Oct. 7.—John L. Billard of Melrose, Conn., who holds a large block of Boston and Maine railroad stock, had a long conference late yesterday with President Tuttle of the road. At the conclusion of the conference Billard was asked if he would confirm or deny the rumor that John F. Stevens was to succeed Tuttle as head of the Boston and Maine system, under a new management. Billard refused to consider the question and stated he should absolutely refuse to be interviewed.

THE DEBS TOUR.

Concord, N. H., Oct. 7.—Eugene V. Debs, the Socialist candidate for president, spoke before a large and enthusiastic audience in Plimley hall last night. He compared the Socialist agitators with such men in history as Patrick Henry, Garrison and others, whose theories came out all right, as Debs pointed the Socialist ideas would. He applauded capitalists and both of the leading parties, but did not mention local state politics.

YANKEE STICKS ON ROCKS.

Newport, R. I., Oct. 7.—An unsuccessful effort, on a high tide, was made to float the cruiser Yankee, ashore on the Spindle on Dean and Children rocks in Buzzards bay. Golders and tugs strained on the cables in vain. Another attempt will be made later in the week, probably. The weather remains excellent, with a smooth sea.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEVITIES.

Arnold Lawson, son of Thomas W. Lawson, announces that it has been decided to sell the Lawson stable at auction in New York this fall. In all about thirty-five horses will be sold, but a few favorites will be retained.

C. A. Ewing, aged 78, a wealthy manufacturer and formerly head of the firm of Ewing Bros. & Co. of Boston, died at his home at Brookline, a Boston suburb. He was the owner of the Holliston wooden mills and of the Tyng Mills of Tyng.

The Operative Photographers' association, in national convention, decided to affiliate with the American Federation of Labor.

The old gunboat Casine has been placed in commission at the navy yard at Portsmouth, N. H., for duty as a parent ship for the submarines on the Atlantic coast.

DEMANDS A NEW PANEL.

Toussaint For Haines Brothers Protest Against a Certain Jurymen.

New York, Oct. 7.—John P. McIntyre, attorney for Captain Peter C. Haines, Jr., and his brother, T. J. Haines, the former held for the murder of William E. Annis and the latter as an accessory to it, has served notice on District Attorney Danforth of Queens county that he will challenge the array of the grand jury empowered to pass on the cases of his clients.

McIntyre bases his action upon information that a member of the grand jury was a warm personal friend of Annis and further, according to McIntyre's informant, that on several occasions since this man's selection as a juror he has been heard to express a determination to do everything in his power to "hang them both"—referring to the Haines brothers. McIntyre, therefore, avers that the jurymen is not competent to sit in the jury room and demands the calling of an entirely new panel.

In the event of the district attorney disregarding his protest, McIntyre will apply to the supreme court for an order dismissing any indictments that may be brought against his clients by the present grand jury.

The divorce action, which has been made a corollary of the murder trial by the filing of an affidavit by Mrs. Haines in which she denies all allegations of improper conduct with Annis, is not to be passed upon until after the action of the state has been disposed of. Mrs. Haines' affidavit and a counterclaiming one by Haines were filed yesterday with Justice Carr in the supreme court of Kings county. Decision on the motion for summary, counsel fees and the custody of children, made in behalf of Mrs. Haines, was reserved.

GRASPED A LIVE ELECTRIC WIRE.

Hands and Head of a Young Man Terribly Burned.

Marblehead, Mass., Oct. 7.—After dangling from a live wire for nearly ten minutes, with 2000 volts of electricity playing through his body, while a crowd of horrified spectators stood by unable to assist him, James Churny, 21 years old, is now hovering between life and death at the Marblehead hospital, and the physicians there hold out very small hopes of his recovery.

Churny was engaged in picking chest nuts, and in leaning out from the limb on which he was standing he lost his balance. In his fall he grasped one of the wires which ran through the branches. There he hung until the electricity burned the flesh off his hands and released his grasp, when he fell to the ground, a distance of twenty-five feet.

He was rushed to the hospital, where it was found that his hands had been terribly burned and a leg burned in to head to the base of the thigh. The doctors say that if he does not die the injuries will develop into spinal meningitis.

NEWS FROM PEARY.

North Sydney, N. S. W., Oct. 7.—Crushed of success and starting under the most favorable conditions in his final dash for the pole, Commander Peary will make a determined effort to reach the northern goal, says Tracy Johnson of New York, one of the crew of the steamer Roosevelt, who was injured on the ship and who passed through here on his way home. The Roosevelt left Etah on Aug. 18 to reach the northward pole.

SLAYER SENT TO PRISON.

Bellport, Conn., Oct. 7.—Antonio Valente of Waterbury, who came to this city and killed Angelo Christiano by shooting on the street, pleaded guilty to manslaughter and was sentenced to state prison for not less than eight years nor more than fifteen. The state has never been able to find out what differences the men had. Apparently there was no dispute at the time of the shooting.

POLICE TUBES LEAKY.

Newport, R. I., Oct. 7.—The new small cruiser Bladensburg, which went to sea yesterday from this port on a trial voyage, returned from a brief inspection on board, returned here last night. Some leaks in the tubes were discovered, which caused the inspection to end temporarily. The vessel will return to the Charles River yard for repairs, which will take a week.

GAIN FOR NO LOSS.

New York, Oct. 7.—A final decision of the little town auctions makes it plain that the town will be financially better off than last year, even though the sale of the town's property will be less than last year's.

FIREMEN REUNION.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 7.—The newest brass band ever played on green Cornish freshmen was worked when several hundred students, supported by upper classmen, danced with enthusiasm to the music of the band.

THE WEATHER.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 8.
Sun rises—5:40; sets—7:10.
Moon sets—3:50 a. m.
High water—9:15 a. m. and 7 p. m.
It will be fair and warmer in New England.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 7, 1908.
IN SLOW OLD EUROPE
Nobody can accuse old Europe of being slow, after the speed with which things have happened the last few days in the Balkans.
The whole group of European powers is watching for an opportunity to tear a slice of Turkey away from the "sick man" of the East.
Russia sees in Turkey the opening of the Dardanelles to her warships now kept in the Black Sea by treaty. The bear also hopes to annex a portion of land there bringing him nearer to the Persian Gulf or some other eastern of the Pacific Ocean.
England sees her control of Egypt and the Suez canal threatened, and while Turkey is being passed around will propose to see that the British lion gets his share.

Austria wants to annex a part of the mountain region known as the Balkans, where the fighting has begun. If this Double-headed Eagle can't get some Turkey, his aim will be to prevent the bear and the lion jumping in.
The German empire wants something, probably being willing to give the Sultan all of some kind in return for a railroad and commercial concession, which would create another German colony. The crazy German Eagle may be depended upon to show up in the neighborhood of the Sultan.
Italy and France would probably be willing to let the rest of the powers do what they wish with Turkey, provided they be free from restraint in their operations in Morocco, Tripoli and the rest of northern Africa.
Serbia, Herzegovina and Bulgaria, as well as Greece and Rumania are not likely to have their feelings and desires taken into consideration.
Rumania will be used the same way.
They may wish to throw off the predominance of Russia, Austria and Turkey.
But the powers are not likely to consent to the rising of an absolutely independent new nation in Europe.
The United States and the financiers of the world are likely to reap the chief benefit by furnishing supplies and money.

BIRD'S-EYE VIEWS
The Maine State Advent Christian Conference is to meet with the Bridgton church, commencing on Thursday next and continuing over Sunday. On Wednesday, October 7, will be held the Maine State Advent Christian Sunday School Convention. The State Missionary Society will hold its meeting Friday, the 8th.
That hoary old story about Creighton, Me., the community that has no votes and pays no taxes, is again on the tapis. The facts are that Creighton is an incorporated plantation where the people vote, pay State, municipal and county taxes, and exercise the other privileges and duties of citizenship.

OUR EXCHANGES
Oklahoma's Bryanistic Law
Oklahoma is having trouble with her school laws. One Judge has declared her new system unconstitutional. Oklahoma will have government by the courts until she gets her laws adjusted.—Birmingham Ledger.
Automobile and Trolley
Not a day occurs without cars rushing wildly out of side streets to the distraction of the motorman and the alarm of the humble people who are obliged to pay five cent fares. It is no uncommon thing for a drunken chauffeur to keep a little ahead of a trolley car and swear his automobile on and off the track to the imminent danger of all concerned. Such exhibitions are oftentimes encountered upon country roads where speedsters by their skill, but they are far from being unknown to the city streets.—Bridgport Telegram.

It Is Up to Bryan
It's his party that has tripped him. His party dug the pit into which he has fallen. His party has shrieked his horror of corporations and corporation lawyers on and on and long that millions of voters believe and attorney who works for a big railroad must necessarily be a suspicious character. Or something worse.
So Mr. Kern is blackened by the organization which lifted him to his present height as the tall of the Bryan kite. He is chilled by the same wind which rushed through his whiskers when he was told to cast his admiring eyes toward Washington and behold himself, in his mind's eye, enthroned in the chief seat of the Senate. Democracy made him a notable figure of the day, and now by Democracy he is condemned.
If Democratic Judgements are to be accepted, his offense is past political pardon. He has served a term of imprisonment, a monopolistic conspiracy of immense wealth and power. He has ministered to a big railroad. He has money from a concern famed and honored in Wall street. He must have done such service or he wouldn't have his power in his pocket. He must be its employee or he could not have a pass-embarked pocketbook. But otherwise every pass would be proof of lawbreaking.

CAUCUS, WARD NO. 3
The Republicans of Ward No. 3 will meet at Ward Room on Baxter street on Saturday evening, Oct. 10, at 7.30 o'clock, for the purpose of nominating representatives and ward officers to be supported at the election of Nov. 3, 1908.
CEYLON SPINNEY, Secretary.

STATE TEACHERS ASSOCIATION
Next Week Friday and Saturday At Manchester

At Manchester will be held the fifty-fifth meeting of the New Hampshire State Teachers' Association on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 10 and 11.
The meeting will begin with a general session in Mechanics' hall at 9.30 o'clock on Friday morning. The devotional exercises will be led by Rev. A. Francis Walsh, the new pastor of the First Universalist church. Governor Charles M. Floyd will extend greetings to the visitors in behalf of the state and Mayor Eugene E. Reed will welcome them to the city. The response will be by Principal Charles P. Cook of Concord. After the announcement of committees an address will be given by Dr. William Byron Forbush of Detroit, Mich., on "The Education of Princes." This will be at 10.15 o'clock. At 11 o'clock, Elmer Ellsworth Brown of Washington, D. C., United States commissioner of education, will speak on "The Educational Leader."

From 12 to 2 o'clock luncheon will be served at the Universalist church, and the parlors of the church have been placed at the disposal of the teachers as rest rooms during the noon recess.
In the afternoon several sectional meetings will be held.
The New Hampshire Classical Association will assemble in high school hall at 2 o'clock. President G. L. Plimpton of Milton Seminary, president, Prof. John K. Lord of Dartmouth College will have a paper on "Virgil" and there will be brief papers and discussions by well known New Hampshire teachers on the same general theme. "Should Cicero Precede Virgil?" "What Composition Work Should Be Done in Connection With Virgil?" "Proposition of Time to be Given to Translation, Syntax and Prosody in Teaching Virgil?" "Translation of the Aeneid," are some of the subjects on the program. Prof. Lord will give an illustrated talk on "Use and Abuse of Pictures in Education." Herr Otto Meierfeldt of Duerst, Germany, Prussian exchange teacher at Phillips Exeter Academy, will speak on "Classical Teaching in German Secondary Schools." The papers will be followed by a business meeting, and a report of the committee on reform of college entrance requirements, presented by Prof. J. C. Kirkland. Arrangements will be made for those attending the classical section to meet for a social gathering and supper at the close of the afternoon session.

The high school section will also meet at two o'clock, its place of meeting being the vestry of Grace church. Principal J. W. Hobbs of Portsmouth will be chairman. Principal Clarence E. Kelley of Milton will speak on "The True Function of the High School." Principal Harry P. Swift of Franklin will read a paper on "The Principal and His Faculty," and Principal Harry E. Walker of Exeter will give an address on "The School and the Parent." The papers will be followed by a discussion, opened by Principal Harlan Bisbee of Robinson Seminary at Exeter.

Another meeting at two o'clock will be that of the grammar school section, at the Universalist church. Supr. W. H. Cummings of Claremont will be the chairman. The speakers and subjects will be as follows: "Teaching Arithmetic," Principal Walter H. Young, Claremont; "History in the Grammar School," Principal Edgar D. Cass, Manchester; "What We Should Expect of Grammar School Graduates," Supr. W. B. Atwell, Coos; "The Physical Welfare of Teacher and Pupils," Supr. Frank C. Johnson, Hillsborough.
Still another Friday afternoon sectional meeting will be that of the primary section. This will be held at Mechanics' hall at 2 o'clock and will be presided over by Principal James E. Klock of the Plymouth Normal school. The subjects to be discussed and the speakers are as follows: "Sense Training," Helen L. Southgate, Concord; "Sense Training Applied to," (a) "Number Work," A. Nester, Bankart, Plymouth; (b) "Reading," Corilla Eggleston, Portsmouth; (c) "Geography and Nature Study," Lillian Shepard, Nashua; (d) "Language and History," Mae Good, Epping.

At one o'clock on Friday the Association of New Hampshire Music Teachers will meet in the large room of the Manchester Institute of Arts and Sciences. President A. J. Abbott of Manchester will preside and superintendents, principals and grade teachers are invited to attend. After the address of the president, the following subjects will be discussed: "Terminology Reform," presented by Supervisor C. I. Rice, Worcester, Mass.; discussion of paper; round table discussion; "What Should be Included in a Course of Music Study for the First Eight Years in Graded Schools?"
At two o'clock the educational council will meet in the council chamber in city hall, the president, Supr. J. H. Blaisdell of Laconia, presiding. The meeting will be for a discussion of educational topics.
This busy day, with its varied interests represented by these sectional meetings, will be brought to a close with an evening meeting in Mechanics' hall at 7.30 o'clock, when Edward Howard Greaves of Mountclair, N. J., will give an address on "Public Education and the Problem of Democracy."

Saturday's sessions, two in number, will be held in the morning only, in Mechanics' hall at nine o'clock. The report of the educational council will be given by R. W. Butterfield of Dover. At 9.30 o'clock committees will report, officers will be elected and unfinished business will be done. At 9.45 o'clock, Isaac Walker of Penobscot will give an address on "The History of Our Association," and at 10.30 o'clock, Prof. William T. Foster of Bowdoin College will speak on "The Teachers' Compensation."

While the meeting is in progress the classical section will meet at the high school, the time of meeting being 5.45 o'clock. The subjects to be presented there and the speakers are as follows: "Greek Authors for School Reading," Dr. A. G. Leacock, Phillips Exeter Academy; "The Fascination of Greek Inscriptions," Prof. C. D. Adams, Dartmouth College; "Theocritus," Principal George H. Libby, Manchester; "The Origin of the Manichaean," Prof. R. W. Husband, Dartmouth College; "Notes on New Books for the Latin Teacher," Prof. J. C. Kirkland, Phillips Exeter Academy.
All these meetings, except that of Friday evening, are open only to members of the association.
The present officers and committees of the association are as follows: President, Principal E. W. Butterfield, Dover; vice president, Principal Charles H. Noyes, Nashua; secretary, Nellie A. Collins, Rochester; treasurer, Principal John Gault, Manchester; additional members or executive committee, Principal Charles P. Cook, Concord; Principal Charles C. Ferguson, Somersworth; legislative committee—Chairman, Superintendent George H. Whitteer, Berlin; Coos county, Edwin Damon, Lancaster; Grant county, Superintendent D. P. Carpenter, Orford; Carroll county, Superintendent H. L. Moore, Wolfeboro; Merrimack county, Superintendent E. F. Whitford, Hillsborough; Hillsborough county, Superintendent F. C. Johnson, Hillsborough Bridge; Belknap county, Superintendent S. A. Burleigh, Meredith; Rockingham county, John A. Brown, Esq., Exeter; Sullivan county, Superintendent F. S. Sullivan, Newport; Strafford county, Prof. E. Dwight Sanderson, Durham; Cheshire county, Superintendent Austin H. Fitz, Troy.
Members of the Educational Council—Term expires Jan. 11, 1909. Superintendent M. C. Smart, Littleton; Principal S. W. Robertson, Rochester. Term expires 1910. Superintendent Channing Polson, Newmarket; Superintendent Charles W. Rickford, Manchester. Term expires Jan. 1, 1911. Principal George H. Libby, Manchester; Principal Willis O. Smith, Lancaster.

WARD TWO REPUBLICAN CAUCUS
The Republicans of Ward Two will hold a caucus on Wednesday evening at 7.30 at the Probate Court room on State street for the purpose of nominating representatives and other officers to be elected at the November election.
Per order,
WARD COMMITTEE.
FUNERAL OF MRS. NEWTON
The funeral of Mrs. Hannah T. Newton was held at two o'clock this afternoon at her home in Newington.
Rev. Alfred Gooding of the Universalist church conducted the services. The singing was by the Unitarian choir.
The burial was at the Newington cemetery under the direction of O. W. Ham.

Four Hundred and Forty-five Attend Phillips' Academy

From nearly every state in the Union, from Mexico, from across the Atlantic and even from the far east have the students who are enrolled this year at the Academy. The total enrollment is 445 and this includes students who come from thirty-nine of the states and from Mexico, Canada, England, Hawaii, Cuba, New Brunswick, Japan and China. Of the foreign countries Mexico leads with six, while Japan comes second with three. New Brunswick's number is two and China, Cuba and England, have one each. Of the enrollment of the states, Massachusetts leads with 112, New Hampshire being second with fifty-three and New York third with fifty. There is quite a number of the boys whose homes are south of Mason and Dixon's line, Virginia, West Virginia, Florida and Alabama having a good representation. The figures show that Pennsylvania sends forty-six, New Jersey seventeen, Maine fifteen, California fourteen, Connecticut thirteen, Ohio twelve, Texas eight, Indiana, Texas and Wisconsin seven each, Mexico and Rhode Island six, District of Columbia, Iowa and Vermont five each, Canada, Louisiana, Montana and Washington four each, Florida, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, Nevada, and West Virginia two each, while there are single representatives of Alabama, Colorado, Delaware, Georgia, Hawaii, Idaho, Kentucky, North Carolina, Oregon and South Carolina. In the classes the upper middle takes numerical honors with 183. The lower middle numbers 113 the senior 98 and the junior forty-one.
The large number of students who yearly come to the academy sufficiently testifies to the high esteem in which it is held as an educational institution.

Dr. A. G. Leacock of Phillips Exeter Academy is to be one of the speakers at the meeting of the N. H. State Teachers' Association next week in Manchester. His topic will be "Greek Authors for School Reading."

Tomorrow night there will be an official visitation of Star of the East lodge A. F. & A. M., by Right Worshipful Albert Henry Sides and Right Worshipful George Franklin Hill, deputy grand lecturer. These two officers of the grand order will visit to make an inspection of the lodge. As the occasion is an important one, nearly every member is expected to be present. In addition to the general exercises and business routine of the evening, the Philharmonic quartet will render several selections. The quartet is composed of excellent local talent and they always acquit themselves in a pleasing manner.

W. S. Day and George M. Goodale are in Lancaster attending a meeting of the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, as representatives of the Exeter order.
To work steadily thirteen years without a vacation is certainly a record and it sounds somewhat mythical too, but nevertheless it is all true. Charles Stackpole, a veteran of the Civil War, at present employed in Gale Brothers' shoe factory has worked thirteen years without interruption and is going to have a vacation this week and everybody will agree that he has certainly earned it. Mr. Stackpole served through all four years of the Civil War and took part in many hard fought battles but today despite the dangers of battle and the pitiless exposures to which so many of the Union army were subjected in the fever infected swamps of the south, Mr. Stackpole is still hale and hearty and looks for many years more of activity and if the well wishing of his numerous friends counts for much he will certainly live a number of years longer and round out in peace and comfort a long life, well spent.

The Independence Rally which is to be held in the Town Hall tonight is attracting considerable notice and is sure to be well attended.
H. C. Stoddard of Boston has been in town this week on business.
A tea party is to be held Thursday evening under the auspices of the First Church. This will be the first affair of its kind which has been held by the church this year.
Services were held at the First church last night.
A new boiler is being installed in the Water Works by the Robt. Munroe Boiler Company of South Portland.

This afternoon the much improved Academy team is digging gravel to pull a victory from the crack Wills.

PAPERMAKERS ACCEPT CUT
Franklin, N. H., Oct. 7.—The strike which has been on in the International Paper Company's plant since August 1 has been settled. The members of the local union of papermakers after a long session summoned Willard E. Everett, superintendent of the local plant, and informed him that they had voted to return to work. The men accepted the five per cent cut in wages.

Kittery, Oct. 7.

Mr. John Adams is improving from his recent severe illness, but his brother Fred's condition still remains critical.

Tonight at the Second Methodist church occurs the harvest supper, being the first of the three days of harvest festival. Tomorrow evening there will be a musical and literary entertainment and on Friday evening a campfire at which time the Grand Army post and the Sons of Veterans will attend.

Mrs. John R. Wentworth still remains quite ill at her home on Jones avenue.

Mr. Jack Connors and wife are visiting friends in Portland. Mr. Connors is enjoying a vacation from his duties on the navy yard.

Mrs. Sarah Hussey and twin sister Mary of Charlestown, Mass., are visiting relatives in town.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Dearborn are in Stratham where Mr. Dearborn has secured employment.

Regular meeting of Whipple Lodge of Good Templars this evening in Grange Hall.

Mrs. Joseph T. Walte still continues in very poor health at her home on the Rogers road.

Order the Herald delivered at your home for three months for one dollar for all the local news.

Mrs. Daniel B. Cook is to return home tomorrow from the Cushing Memorial Hospital at Roxbury, Mass., where she has been for treatment.

Miss Mabel Jenkins of Newmarket street is taking up a course of study at Wellesley College before returning to her duties at Whitehall, Conn.

Col. Mark Wentworth Camp, Son of Veterans, will hold their regular meeting tomorrow evening in Hayes block.

Regular meeting of the Daughters of Rebekah will be held tomorrow evening in Odd Fellows' Hall.

Mr. J. Franklin Gage and Mr. George Adams of Dover, N. H., were in town yesterday to attend the funeral of Mr. George Adams.

There was quite a gathering last evening in Grange Hall to attend the apron and necktie party for the benefit of the local Grange.

There will be a harvest supper tonight in the North Kittery Methodist church and a number of the young folks from this part of the town are planning to go.

Read the Herald for all of the local news.

Miss Carrie Stevens has resigned her position in the Portsmouth depot.

Mrs. Waldo W. Ladd has so far recovered from her recent illness as to be able to be out of doors.

The apple crop in town is reported to be very plentiful and they are being sold at very reasonable prices per barrel.

There was a good attendance on Tuesday evening at the regular weekly prayer meeting at the Second Christian church and all enjoyed listening to Mr. Kosheba, the converted Japanese, who was very interesting.

Miss Zana Peavey and Miss Carrie Stevens have secured employment at the Lorton factory, Portsmouth.

A number of local people were in attendance at the Emery-Moulton musicals at Kittery Point on Tuesday.

Mr. Kosheba, who spoke at the Christian church on Tuesday evening, was the guest of Mrs. Anna W. Hobbs during his stay in Kittery.

Miss May Adams was able to be present at the service Tuesday evening for the first time in many months.

It is sincerely to be hoped that the prospect of gas light in the homes and on the street of our village will be speedily realized. Now that the "water question" seems to be settled and water for consumption and effectively to light possible conflagrations is forthcoming the "light question" is by no means a little one. Some light—any light rather than to run the risks attendant on no light.

Mr. Charles Gage of Dover was a visitor in town on Tuesday.

Mr. Benjamin Barker, Mr. Orion R. Bennett and Mr. D. A. Marden were the bearers at the funeral of Mr. George Adams on Tuesday afternoon.

It is to be questioned if our citizens adequately appreciate their privilege of hearing the band play on the yard each afternoon. Certainly it was a revelation of the caliber of the present organization to hear recently the artistic rendition of the beautiful "Hearts and Flowers." We note also that the Farragut tablet on the commandant's house hangs up quite conspicuously from the street, from which evidently it is to be viewed by the interested.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Fletcher of the navy yard are recovering from severe colds.

The church at Westbury, R. I., to which Rev. J. G. Dutton went from his pastorate of the Second Christian church and where he still is, recently entertained the session of the Rhode Island and Massachusetts Christian Conference.

Parish Post will assemble at seven o'clock Friday evening at Sons of Veterans Hall to march to the Second Methodist church to attend the campfire.

Kittery Point

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Joseph Moulton left home Tuesday evening for a wedding trip to New York, after which they will reside in "Leeds Lodge," their new home on the Spruce Creek road.

Capt. A. F. Rose on Tuesday resumed his duties on the Alice Howard after a vacation of two weeks.

The big five master Dorothy Palmer, Capt. Harding, is making a very long passage here from Newport News with nearly 5000 tons of coal for the navy yard equipment department. These are not at all unusual, however, for Capt. George Tripp of the Emma P. Angell has just completed one of thirty-eight days from the same port to Boston. Capt. Tripp is well known here.

Tag M. Mitchell Davis towed the coal laden schooner Eugene Borden to Kennebunkport Tuesday afternoon.

The lighthouse tender Isaac, Capt. William Sterling, arrived Tuesday.

Oliver L. Feltbee closed his cottage, The Anchor, on Fishing Island today and returned with his family to their home in Portsmouth for the winter.

Mrs. Susan Morrison, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Herbert Seaward of Tenney's Hill, has returned to her home in Five Islands, N. S.

The regular monthly meeting of the Kittery Yacht Club will be held Thursday evening. Refreshments will be served.

Two families of the same name but of no relation to each other have summered here; Mrs. Hugh D. Scott of Wellesley, Mass., on Jamaica Island, and Mrs. Hugh B. Scott of Burlington, Vt., on Gernish Island.

Schooner Adelle Fuller, Capt. Lindsey, sailed from Port Johnson Monday with coal for J. C. Curtis.

The girls' basketball team of Trape Academy will give a Hallowe'en dance at Wentworth Hall, Kittery, on Saturday evening, Oct. 21.

The mothers at the navy yard give a dance Friday evening, Oct. 23, at Wentworth Hall.

SOUTH ELIOT

The marriage of Earl E. Staples and Miss Elizabeth M. Place occurred Monday evening at the home of Rev. George W. Brown, the officiating clergyman. Mr. and Mrs. Staples have taken up their residence in the house owned by Mrs. Clara J. Staples.

Charles F. Staples and family, who have been staying at their cottage here several weeks, return to their home in Portsmouth this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Thornton of East Boston have been visiting Rev. George W. Brown.

Cowan Brooks and wife and daughter Marion, who have been visiting his mother, Mrs. James Brooks, will leave on Thursday for their home in Washington. Miss Winifred Forbush will accompany them.

Roy Korman and sister Ethel of Boston returned home on Monday from a visit with True Carney and family.

Rev. Augustus Caldwell will preach at the Advent church next Sunday.

Herbert S. Nelson is to move his family from the Willis house to the one owned by A. H. Nelson.

Apples, though scarce, are very large and handsome in this section. Mr. Wentworth Dangle picked three of the higher variety from his orchard of the same size, twelve inches in circumference, five and one-half in diameter and weighing a pound.

CHARLES C. HARVEYA Native of Portsmouth Who Has Died in Boston

Many old-time acquaintances learned with keenest sorrow of the sudden dissolution of Mr. Charles C. Harvey at his residence, the Hill of Beaconsfield, Brookline, Mass., on Monday.

He was born in Portsmouth in 1822 and was consequently seventy-six years of age. He was the eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John S. Harvey and was an early attendant at the public schools and continued his studies at the high school. Under the firm name of John S. Harvey &amp; Son they opened a music and art store in Exchange block (it was then known) on Pleasant street and conducted the same several years. On relinquishing the business the senior member engaged in fire insurance in this city, while his son soon moved to Boston where he engaged in the music trade and continued in on Baystate street to the time of his death. He was a most successful caterer to the public and cultivated a good competency.

After moving to Boston he was united in marriage to a lady of distinguished traits of character and whose gentility and cordiality of nature won to her side hosts of lifelong friends. She died some years ago leaving beside her husband, most devoted children.

Mr. Harvey was a man of great urbanity of nature, positive in his convictions and carried the respect and esteem of all who knew him. His sudden departure was a great surprise to his family and friends for up to the last hours he had been in his customary health and was at his place of business that day.

The funeral takes place this afternoon at three o'clock from the chapel of the Massachusetts crematory, Forest Hills, the burial of the ashes then taking place in the family plot.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

New Hampshire Grand Lodge in Session at Lancaster

Lancaster, Oct. 7.—As a preliminary to the session of the grand lodge of Knights of Pythias, which opens here today, Star King company of the Uniform Rank, was host to a number of visiting companions last evening.

Yesterday afternoon the second battalion, under command of Major Fullerton, made a street parade, which was a most successful and satisfactory spectacle.

A drill was given on Main street at the conclusion of the parade.

Last evening Frontier lodge of West Stewartstown, worked the rank of esquire before a large gathering of grand officers and knights.

In Odd Fellows' hall the local temple of Pythian Sisters and scores of members from other temples, watched the work exemplified by Perseverance temple of Canada.

Today times the business session of the grand lodge and most of the grand officers are present for the occasion. The grand assembly of the Sisters hold memorial services and a business session at the same hour.

LOCATION NOT YET APPROVED

Reason Given for Keeping the Big Shears At Charlestown

Sen. Henry D. Burnham, United States Senator, makes public the following letter:

Navy Department, Washington, October 2, 1908.
My dear Senator Burnham:
Replying to your letter of the 28th ultimo, in which you refer to previous correspondence with the Department concerning the transfer of the 190-ton shears from the Navy Yard, Boston, to the Navy Yard, Portsmouth, and state that up to a week ago no work had been done on the foundation therefor and the transfer of the crane had not been accomplished, I beg to state that the Bureau of Yards and Docks, to which your letter was referred, reports as follows:

"The Bureau has made special efforts to expedite the work herein referred to and satisfactory progress has been made with the preliminary work. The matter is now awaiting the approval of the Department of the Interior recommended for the shears at the Portsmouth Navy Yard and the Department's action upon requisitions for the installation of the foundation and the purchase of a motor required to operate the shears."

The two requisitions above referred to were approved by the Department on the 2nd instant, contract to be awarded in each instance after completion, through the Navy Pay Office, without advertisement in the public press, in order to expedite the matter. The question of the location of the shears will be decided by the Department in a few days.

Very respectfully,
H. D. BURNHAM, Secretary.

Sen. Henry D. Burnham, U. S. S., Manchester, N. H.

It is understood that the proposed location is close to Henderson's Point. The money for moving the shears from the Boston yard to the Portsmouth yard has been available since July.

GRIFFIN--BURKE

In the presence of a large gathering of friends, relatives and acquaintances, two popular young people, James Griffin and Miss Mary Ellen Burke were united in marriage today. Rev. Mr. Edward J. Walsh, D. D., of the local Episcopal high mass and performed the ceremony which made them one for life.

The bride wore a very pretty gown of crepe de chine trimmed with velvet and lace, and carried a bouquet of white yucca and baby's breath.

The groom wore a tuxedo and was a native son of the village. Michael Joseph Griffin, son of the groom was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the couple, number 66 Pleasant street, and a wedding breakfast consisting of lobster and chicken salad, iced cream, assorted cakes, coffee and fruit.

The wedding presents were numerous and beautiful including a costly silver chest as a gift from the wedding party at the Portsmouth Brewing Company where the groom is employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffin left on the evening train for an extended wedding trip to Washington, Philadelphia, New York and Saratoga.

Guests were present from Boston, Milton and Dover.

BODY OF A. E. CARLSON FOUND IN THE CREEK

He Was Drowned on the Evening of September 27th

The body of Axel E. Carlson was discovered early this morning floating in Sagamore Creek near his home.

Mr. Carlson, who was employed at John T. Coolidge's summer home at Little Harbor, has been missing from his work since Sunday night, Sept. 27, and from the fact that a canoe belonging to the estate was picked up near the Wentworth House bridge floating bottom side up, it had been inferred that he was drowned.

Carlson was last seen about six o'clock on the fatal evening at the dining stage in front of the Coolidge estate and later one of the canoes was missing and it was taken for granted that he had gone off in it. Monday morning he did not show up to work and that same evening George Dams of Eliot while coming through the Wentworth house bridge found a canoe floating bottom up near the bridge.

Carlson has been employed by the Coolidges for the past two years and he was an expert machinist and man. He was a Swedish thirty-two years of age, and was a sober and sympathetic fellow who never made it a practice to remain away from his work. Carlson left a wife and three small children, one a baby recently born.

Dr. A. J. Lance, medical examiner, certified that death was due to drowning. There being no reason to suppose that it was other than an accident, no inquest was deemed necessary.

Undertaker O. W. Ham prepared the body for removal to Newwood, Mass., where the funeral will be held at the home of the dead man's brother.

The discovery of the body this morning was by Charles E. Stover, who was driving by. He called help and the rescue was made after which the family and the officials were notified.

THE CHARGES AGAINST A PORTSMOUTH CITIZEN

Offensive Partisanship Is Alleged to the Civil Service Commission

Washington, Oct. 7.—It is announced at the navy department that the charges of "offensive partisanship" against Fernando W. Hartford, chief clerk in the purchasing department of the Portsmouth navy yard, were made by John H. Burdett of Portsmouth.

It is said to be Mr. Hartford's contention that he is not the editor of the paper in which certain alleged objectionable articles appeared. Grandly, certain articles supporting the principles of the Republican party, and advocating the election of the Republican nominee.

He is president and treasurer of the stock company which owns two newspapers published at Portsmouth, and states that the editors for these papers are employed by the company.

The charges were taken directly to the civil service commission.

WOULD ESTABLISH NOTABLE MEMORIAL

For the Portsmouth Centennial of Religious Journalism

The Herald of Gospel Liberty now of Dayton, Ohio, whose centennial was observed in Portsmouth on September 1st, where it was founded, contains in its current issue a valuable paper thereon by Rev. Mark H. Gardner, pastor of the Court street church.

The article closes in these timely words: "Let not these three days' gathering at Portsmouth end in all but there be some memorial which shall be fitting for us and in which all can take a part. Ten cents from every man, woman, boy and girl in our churches, Christian Endeavor societies and Sunday schools would establish a fund with which something appropriate, lasting and useful to the kingdom of God on earth could be erected or established."

A grand and noble suggestion, and may this people take the matter by the forelock and secure a pertinent memorial.

This memorial of the centennial would probably be of an eulogistic nature. There has also been a movement started for the placing of a tablet on the house at the east corner of Jefferson and Washington streets, where Eliza Smith published the first religious paper in 1808.

The Dartmouth graduates in this city peddle a great season for their college football team. Their main ambition is to win from Harvard and Princeton.

Houses Piped for Gas at Cost

We make the following offer for concealed work, all pipes to be placed in the walls:
